Hello Everyone,

Just a quick follow up on this regarding hiring— If the PhD students noted below are not registered for 6 units in Fall, then we have to hire them as adjuncts during the summer. So if they finish/defend their dissertations in spring or summer, then they hire them as adjuncts at the $6000 rate. If it is not a guarantee that they will defend by the end of the summer term, we should enroll them in 6 dissertation units for fall and hire them as PhD students in the summer until a defense date is confirmed. Happy to help clarify this if needed.

Thanks,

Thanks, Sabryna.

I am adding Jess so she can see our thinking here on summer teaching.

I have attached an updated spreadsheet. I have not reached out to any PhD students yet. This is just me assigning our current 3rd year cohort to classes. After we assign all third years, we have just POL201 in both sessions to be assigned.

We have six students in our current fifth year cohort who are due to finish up this year. I have excluded Dan Detzi from consideration, [REDACTED] The remaining six are Alex Bruens, Seoungin Choi, Sanho Chung, Alexander Cloudt, Rongbo Jin, and Fai Tosuratana.

[REDACTED]

I do not think we have space to provide classes for all of these folks to teach this summer. Well, we have two sessions of 201 and probably no more. If we offer more classes, we run the risk of them not enrolling and us having to either cancel them or pro-rate the salary. We will not be allowed to guarantee the $4000 salary this summer.

Thoughts on what to do?

Alex

Hi All,

One of our postdocs, Bang, has expressed an interest in teaching. We could line him up to teach in person. It would be pro-rated fee based on enrollments, but as he is already on a 1.0FTE contract, I suspect any supp comp would be appreciated. He is mostly keen on the teaching experience.

He could teach 201 in person. Or either 325 (political psych) or 409 (public opinion), if we think we have need??

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few quick thoughts:

1. I think we will prioritize the PhD students to teach where possible, ahead of some of these adjuncts. So, we should have enough PhD students to cover 201, 202, 204, 206. I think this means we hold off reaching out to Gordell and Chen.
2. Samantha Simon has expressed an interest in teaching her online class in Summer, as well. Could be good to have extra CJS coverage given growth of that program online. She and Craig Smith would be the two core faculty teaching in Summer at UG level.
3. Given CJS online, I wonder if we need a second section of 241 online? So, one in both sessions.

4. I also wonder if we want a second one of 206 if we think CJS students are likely to be needing it?
5. I think reaching out to Orr, Tryon, and Palmer sounds good.
6. I am a little torn on the in person. We are going to be asked to only offer classes that we are highly confident will enroll 18 students as a minimum. I just worry we will not enroll 18 in person. However, if the UG team have a plan for ensuring the enrollments, then we can certainly offer. (An alternative would be for us to move [REDACTED] 419 section from Spring to Summer, [REDACTED])

Subject: Schedule of Classes: Summer 2024

Hello All,

I am reaching out as open scheduling for Fall/Summer 2024 has begun.

After discussing with Advisors and reviewing last Summer's schedule, attached is a suggested Summer 2024 schedule.

Some Notes/Questions:

- I have a note that Betsy Palmer will be teaching, though I did not receive details on what class she will be offering, I will reach out to confirm.
- I also have a note that Craig Smith will be offering PA 406 – I will reach out to confirm his preferred teaching session.
- Online Advisors have requested PA/SOC 241 be offered, as it is currently not scheduled for

Spring 2024

- Last Summer we had Dan Grossenbach teach PA330 – are we wanting to re-invite him for Summer 2024?
- Advisors did request an in-person section, they suggested PA/POL 419 (taught last summer by Dan Detzi – Online)... are we open to scheduling something in-person this summer?

For Adjuncts, are we comfortable with Inviting the following Adjuncts to Teach in Summer 2024?

- POL 202 (Session 1) - Xiran Chen
- PA/POL 206 (Session 1) – Kelly Gordell
- POL 210 (Session 1) – Ethan Orr
- POL 309 (Session 1) – Brandon Tryon
- POL 202 (Session 2) – Kelly Gordell

Subject: RE: Schedule of Classes: Summer 2024

Thank you following up, Alex!

I will reach out to Orr, Tryon, Palmer, Craig Smith and Samantha Simon for Summer Scheduling.

I have asked Jessica, CC'd here, to connect with the Online advisors, to ask their insight about offering multiple sections 241 and 206 for summer; I suspect that we may be okay with one section of each, but CJS has seemed to be growing significantly.

I have not had an update from [REDACTED] but potentially offering her 419 section is a great back-up, I'm not confident that we have a big-enough need to fill 18 seats in-person, I will circle back with Advisors!

Subject: Re: Schedule of Classes: Summer 2024

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few quick thoughts:

1. I think we will prioritize the PhD students to teach where possible, ahead of some of these adjuncts. So, we should have enough PhD students to cover 201, 202, 204, 206. I think this means we hold off reaching out to Gordell and Chen.
2. Samantha Simon has expressed an interest in teaching her online class in Summer, as well. Could be good to have extra CJS coverage given growth of that program online. She and Craig Smith would be the two core faculty teaching in Summer at UG level.
3. Given CJS online, I wonder if we need a second section of 241 online? So, one in both sessions.
4. I also wonder if we want a second one of 206 if we think CJS students are likely to be needing it?
5. I think reaching out to Orr, Tryon, and Palmer sounds good.
6. I am a little torn on the in person. We are going to be asked to only offer classes that we are highly confident will enroll 18 students as a minimum. I just worry we will not enroll 18 in person. However, if the UG team have a plan for ensuring the enrollments, then we can certainly offer. (An alternative would be for us to move [REDACTED] 419 section from Spring to Summer, [REDACTED])

Cheers

Subject: Schedule of Classes: Summer 2024

Hello All,

I am reaching out as open scheduling for Fall/Summer 2024 has begun.

After discussing with Advisors and reviewing last Summer's schedule, attached is a suggested Summer 2024 schedule.

Some Notes/Questions:

- I have a note that Betsy Palmer will be teaching, though I did not receive details on what class she will be offering, I will reach out to confirm.
- I also have a note that Craig Smith will be offering PA 406 – I will reach out to confirm his preferred teaching session.
- Online Advisors have requested PA/SOC 241 be offered, as it is currently not scheduled for Spring 2024
- Last Summer we had Dan Grossenbach teach PA330 – are we wanting to re-invite him for Summer 2024?
- Advisors did request an in-person section, they suggested PA/POL 419 (taught last summer by Dan Detzi – Online)... are we open to scheduling something in-person this summer?

For Adjuncts, are we comfortable with Inviting the following Adjuncts to Teach in Summer 2024?

- POL 202 (Session 1) - Xiran Chen
- PA/POL 206 (Session 1) – Kelly Gordell
- POL 210 (Session 1) – Ethan Orr

- POL 309 (Session 1) – Brandon Tryon
- POL 202 (Session 2) – Kelly Gordell

Hi Angela.

I've been approached by a publisher about authoring a textbook for PA ethics for potential use in PA330.

Do you know how many students take PA330 each year (or semester) on average?

Other than Dr. Polakawski, Stuart Brody, and I, which other instructors have taught this class over the last couple years? I may want to reach out to them about possible collaboration.

I thought this course was cross listed with a sister Political Science course but can't see that in the catalog description. Do you know the cross-listings or if another department has the same class?

Happy Thanksgiving week!

I think we have these options:

1. Gordell teaches 241 and 311 AND:
 - a. [REDACTED] teaches 204. [REDACTED] OR
 - b. Ianne Wang teaches 204. We could see if she would teach two courses for us?!?
 - i. If Ianne did not want to teach two courses, we could have teach one and Rongbo Jin the other. We could then use MPA labor to cover the TA role that Rongbo would vacate.

Thoughts?

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class). This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

This sounds like a good plan to me, I will connect with Kelly and Xiran and get back to you all the coverage I am able to put together! I will get flyers made for 205 and 297b, and will start having Julie promote those.

If anything else comes up, please let me know!

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Xavier developed PA 331 for online, so it could be possible to plug someone into Xavier's course that has familiarity, if not expertise, in the area. I'm not sure who - a graduate student, Kelly/Xiran, or someone else?

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)

- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

2024:

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Perfect. Thanks, Sabryna!

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

If you are OK to follow up with him now and confirm 417, that would be great.

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT ALEXANDER CLOUDT
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT RONGBO JIN
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I —> PHD STUDENT ALEX BRUENS.
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I —> IF WE NEED THIS, WE SHOULD INVITE AN ADJUNCT (XIRAN CHEN OR KELLY GORDELL)
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II —> PHD STUDENT HERBIE TINSLEY.
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I --> INVITE ADJUNCT TO TEACH THIS (XIRAN CHEN OR KELLY GORDELL)

- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II --> PHD STUDENT XIAO DING.
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I --> PHD STUDENT WASIMON TOSURATANA.
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II --> PHD STUDENT EDWIN ALVARADO-MENA.
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I --> NOT SURE IF WE HAVE A GOOD OPTION, SO WE WILL WANT TO THINK ABOUT ADJUNTS.
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT JOY JIA TEACH THIS.
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students) --> As Kirssa mentioned, Edella is chatting with a familiar colleague about this.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Some Notes:

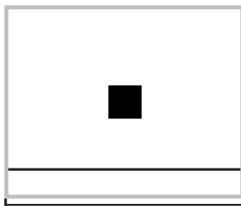

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few thoughts and responses:

- First – THANK YOU! As always, you have given us a great starting point.
- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

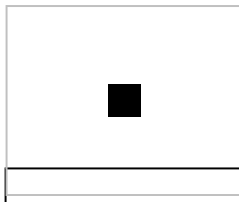

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.

- 400-499: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

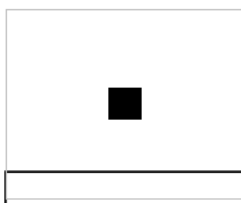

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Thanks. I am a little weary of hiring someone entirely new, as I think this is a short term fix needed for 241 and 331.

I think we have these options:

1. Gordell teaches 241 and 311 AND:
 - a. [REDACTED] teaches 204. [REDACTED] OR
 - b. Ianne Wang teaches 204. We could see if she would teach two courses for us?!?

- i. If Ianne did not want to teach two courses, we could have teach one and Rongbo Jin the other. We could then use MPA labor to cover the TA role that Rongbo would vacate.

Thoughts?

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Xavier developed PA 331 for online, so it could be possible to plug someone into Xavier's course that has familiarity, if not expertise, in the area. I'm not sure who - a graduate student, Kelly/Xiran, or someone else?

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

2024:

[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Perfect. Thanks, Sabryna!

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Cheers

If you are OK to follow up with him now and confirm 417, that would be great.

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT ALEXANDER CLOUDT
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT RONGBO JIN

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II

- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted

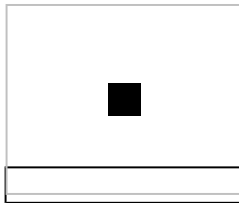

Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.

- I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few thoughts and responses:

- First – THANK YOU! As always, you have given us a great starting point.
- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.

- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

In terms of your notes at the bottom of the page:

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

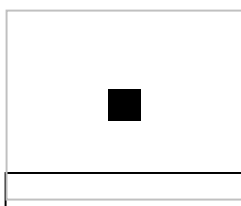

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.

4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

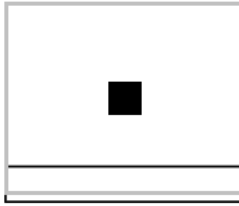

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Thanks. I am a little weary of hiring someone entirely new, as I think this is a short term fix needed for 241 and 331.

I think we have these options:

1. Gordell teaches 241 and 311 AND:
 - a. [REDACTED] teaches 204. [REDACTED] OR
 - b. Ianne Wang teaches 204. We could see if she would teach two courses for us?!?
 - i. If Ianne did not want to teach two courses, we could have teach one and Rongbo Jin the other. We could then use MPA labor to cover the TA role that Rongbo would vacate.

Thoughts?

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.

- On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Thank you!

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Thanks, Sabryna. We had a quick email exchange back in June when you said you'd reach out to him. I mention this only in case you actually did and he never responded, which has been known to happen.

If you are OK to follow up with him now and confirm 417, that would be great.

Cheers

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeris Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeris or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

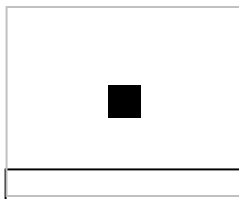

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.

- I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

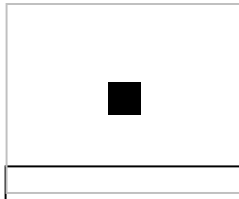

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?

- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Thank you,

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him

that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD

- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Thanks. I am a little weary of hiring someone entirely new, as I think this is a short term fix needed for 241 and 331.

I think we have these options:

1. Gordell teaches 241 and 311 AND:
 - a. [REDACTED] teaches 204. [REDACTED] OR
 - b. Ianne Wang teaches 204. We could see if she would teach two courses for us?!?
 - i. If Ianne did not want to teach two courses, we could have teach one and Rongbo Jin the other. We could then use MPA labor to cover the TA role that Rongbo would vacate.

Thoughts?

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Sounds great.

I thought the normal cap for online is 40 students, but is that incorrect? I'm fine with whatever is normal. And having it split between 101/201 is good.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

For POL 202, we already have a session 1 that needs an instructor which Jeff can take over. For POL360, do we know yet if Jeff would like that be scheduled in session 1 as well?

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Thanks, all.

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Hi everyone,

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II

- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I

- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II

- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II

PA 441 with Sam Simon – she would like to schedule this in 7.5 Week 1; before moving forward I wanted to double check with you all this will be offered as a 101/201 and ensure that we are comfortable with a 40 seat Cap.

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

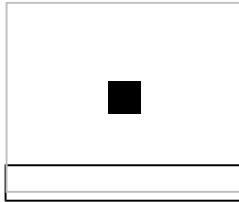

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
 - We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a

MWF offering.

- I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
- I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

Some Notes:

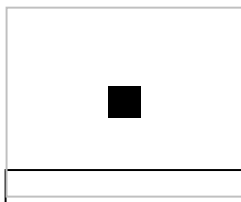

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.

6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

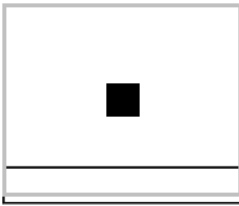

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Thanks. I am a little weary of hiring someone entirely new, as I think this is a short term fix needed for 241 and 331.

I think we have these options:

1. Gordell teaches 241 and 311 AND:
 - a. [REDACTED] teaches 204. [REDACTED] OR
 - b. Ianne Wang teaches 204. We could see if she would teach two courses for us?!?
 - i. If Ianne did not want to teach two courses, we could have teach one and Rongbo Jin the other. We could then use MPA labor to cover the TA role that Rongbo would vacate.

Thoughts?

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.

- On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Best,

Hi All,

Following up here... I think we are okay with break down of online sessions, students appear to already be enrolling into the 200-level session 1 courses.

For POL 202, we already have a session 1 that needs an instructor which Jeff can take over. For POL360, do we know yet if Jeff would like that be scheduled in session 1 as well?

Hi All,

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

Hi everyone,

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Thank you all!

That was my understanding (101/201; 40 seats). I guess the only question is if she wanted to make this writing emphasis. I had a brief conversation about that possibility with her, but didn't get the sense that she wanted to go that route.

Hi All,

A very quick additional question regarding Spring 2024 Schedule...

PA 441 with Sam Simon – she would like to schedule this in 7.5 Week 1; before moving forward I wanted to double check with you all this will be offered as a 101/201 and ensure that we are comfortable with a 40 seat Cap.

Thank you both!

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

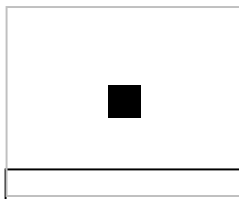

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.

- I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

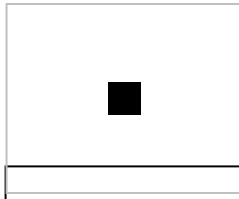

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?

- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him

that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD

- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Thank you all,

Thanks. I am a little weary of hiring someone entirely new, as I think this is a short term fix needed for 241 and 331.

I think we have these options:

1. Gordell teaches 241 and 311 AND:
 - a. [REDACTED] teaches 204. [REDACTED] OR
 - b. Ianne Wang teaches 204. We could see if she would teach two courses for us?!?
 - i. If Ianne did not want to teach two courses, we could have teach one and Rongbo Jin the other. We could then use MPA labor to cover the TA role that Rongbo would vacate.

Thoughts?

Cheers

One more thought-- we have an open adjunct talent ad right now- we can visit the pool and see if we hire someone new? For any one of these...

If you don't have access to the apps, I can ask the business office to add you to the search committee...

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

I suppose we have materials all prepared for all three classes. I know that folks have taught 204 and 241 multiple times using those collective materials, so those feel like a safe bet to me. 331 I am a little less certain. We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi everyone,

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Best,

Thanks, Sabryna.

I am copying Kirssa back in here because she has also been chatting with Jeff about online teaching in Spring. So, we should keep him in mind for 202, as well, potentially.

I am a bit worried we do not have anyone for 331. Not sure what to think about this one. The others I think we will be fine.

Cheers

No Problem!

After PhD Assignments, we are needing coverage for the following Spring Courses

- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

We still have some time to finalize the above instructors, but if you'd like me to reach out to Kelly or Xiran, please let me know!

Just to confirm, currently I have only one section of POL201- 7WK1 being offered in Spring with Spencer Lindsay, I will move forward with adding 2nd section of 201 in 7WK1 for Ianne Wang.

Which would leave us with 1 section of 201 in 7WK2, with Seoungin Choi.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I

- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Thank you,

Oh, and I had meant to add that we might be fine with just two sections of POL202 online rather than three. So, maybe hide the third section of this for now and we can reconsider closer to the time.

- POL297b/397b – As we have submitted the course modification, I will tentatively add this to the workbook, and once the modification gets approved, I can have it officially added to the schedule.

Again, if there is anything I missed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

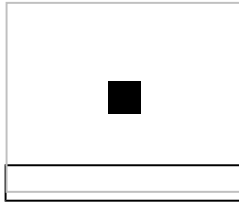

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
 - We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a

MWF offering.

- I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

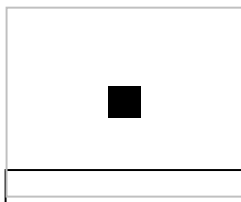

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.

6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

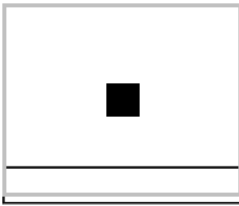

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE

Thanks. I am a little weary of hiring someone entirely new, as I think this is a short term fix needed for 241 and 331.

I think we have these options:

1. Gordell teaches 241 and 311 AND:
 - a. [REDACTED] teaches 204. [REDACTED] OR
 - b. Ianne Wang teaches 204. We could see if she would teach two courses for us?!?
 - i. If Ianne did not want to teach two courses, we could have teach one and Rongbo Jin the other. We could then use MPA labor to cover the TA role that Rongbo would vacate.

Thoughts?

One more thought-- we have an open adjunct talent ad right now- we can visit the pool and see if we hire someone new? For any one of these...

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

I suppose we have materials all prepared for all three classes. I know that folks have taught 204 and 241 multiple times using those collective materials, so those feel like a safe bet to me. 331 I am a little less certain. We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?

2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Thanks, Sabryna

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Cheers

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

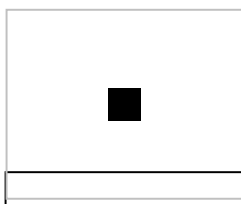

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.

- We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 2024 schedule.

Some Notes:

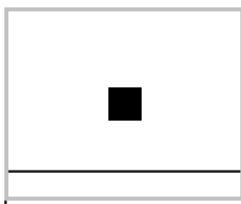

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

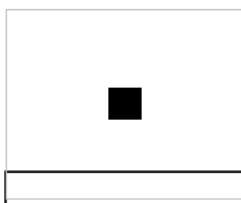

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

Hi All,

This sounds like a good plan to me, I will connect with Kelly and Xiran and get back to you all the coverage I am able to put together! I will get flyers made for 205 and 297b, and will start having Julie promote those.

If anything else comes up, please let me know!

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Xavier developed PA 331 for online, so it could be possible to plug someone into Xavier's course that has familiarity, if not expertise, in the area. I'm not sure who - a graduate student, Kelly/Xiran, or someone else?

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire lanne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.

3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Perfect. Thanks, Sabryna!

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Thanks, Sabryna. We had a quick email exchange back in June when you said you'd reach out to him. I mention this only in case you actually did and he never responded, which has been known to happen.

If you are OK to follow up with him now and confirm 417, that would be great.

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT ALEXANDER CLOUDT
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT RONGBO JIN

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?

- We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeris or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa?

Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Some Notes:

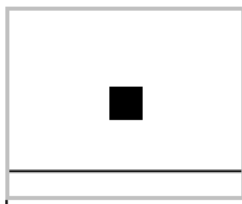

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few thoughts and responses:

- First – THANK YOU! As always, you have given us a great starting point.
- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab ([REDACTED] [REDACTED])

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

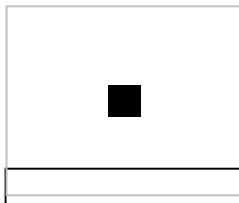

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?

- Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

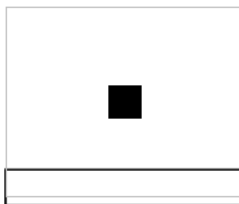

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi All,

Following up here... I think we are okay with break down of online sessions, students appear to already be enrolling into the 200-level session 1 courses.

For POL 202, we already have a session 1 that needs an instructor which Jeff can take over. For POL360, do we know yet if Jeff would like that be scheduled in session 1 as well?

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hi everyone,

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Thanks!

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

PA 441 with Sam Simon – she would like to schedule this in 7.5 Week 1; before moving forward I wanted to double check with you all this will be offered as a 101/201 and ensure that we are comfortable with a 40 seat Cap.

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

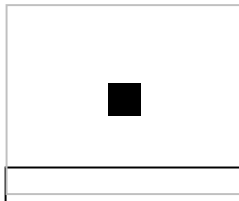

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?

- I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

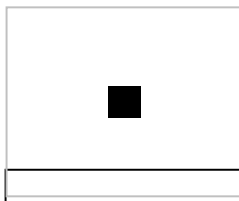

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348

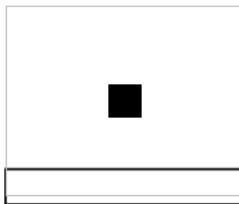

McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]

- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Hi All,

Just a quick update to help with the decisions- if we hire an adjunct for 3 classes in one semester, they will then become benefits-eligible for the term because they will be 0.6 FTE (0.2 FTE for each class).

This will cost the dept about 30% more to pay for the benefits.

Let me know if you have any other questions- Could [REDACTED] teach any of these? Just a thought.

I suppose we have materials all prepared for all three classes. I know that folks have taught 204 and 241 multiple times using those collective materials, so those feel like a safe bet to me. 331 I am a little less certain. We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

No Problem!

After PhD Assignments, we are needing coverage for the following Spring Courses

- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

We still have some time to finalize the above instructors, but if you'd like me to reach out to Kelly or Xiran, please let me know!

Hello all,

Just to confirm, currently I have only one section of POL201- 7WK1 being offered in Spring with Spencer Lindsay, I will move forward with adding 2nd section of 201 in 7WK1 for Ianne Wang.

Which would leave us with 1 section of 201 in 7WK2, with Seoungin Choi.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Thank you,

Sabryna Jaimez

Oh, and I had meant to add that we might be fine with just two sections of POL202 online rather than three. So, maybe hide the third section of this for now and we can reconsider closer to the time.

- POL419 – completely fell of my radar, I am getting it back on track to be scheduled with [REDACTED]
- POL309 – Sounds like there is agreement for Jake to teach, I will reach out to get that scheduled as well.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?

2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

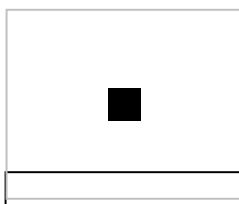

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.

- We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 2024 schedule.

Some Notes:

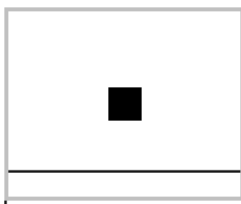

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

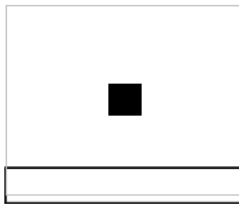

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

I suppose we have materials all prepared for all three classes. I know that folks have taught 204 and 241 multiple times using those collective materials, so those feel like a safe bet to me. 331 I am a little less certain. We'd probably want Kelly to meet and chat with Xavi. What do you think, Kirssa?

I guess it is also important for us to know if we can hire an adjunct to teach three in one semester?!?

This sounds like a good plan to me, I will connect with Kelly and Xiran and get back to you all the coverage I am able to put together! I will get flyers made for 205 and 297b, and will start having Julie promote those.

If anything else comes up, please let me know!

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Xavier developed PA 331 for online, so it could be possible to plug someone into Xavier's course that has familiarity, if not expertise, in the area. I'm not sure who - a graduate student, Kelly/Xiran, or someone else?

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I

- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

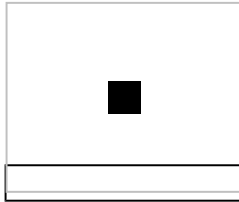

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
 - We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a

MWF offering.

- I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
- I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

Thank you All!

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few thoughts and responses:

- First – THANK YOU! As always, you have given us a great starting point.
- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

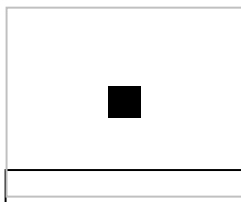

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.

6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

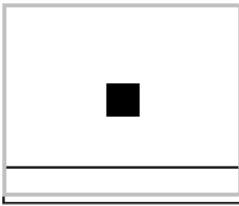

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)

POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)

- Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Best,

Hi All,

Following up here... I think we are okay with break down of online sessions, students appear to already be enrolling into the 200-level session 1 courses.

For POL 202, we already have a session 1 that needs an instructor which Jeff can take over. For POL360, do we know yet if Jeff would like that be scheduled in session 1 as well?

Hi All,

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

Hi everyone,

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Thank you all!

That was my understanding (101/201; 40 seats). I guess the only question is if she wanted to make this writing emphasis. I had a brief conversation about that possibility with her, but didn't get the sense that she wanted to go that route.

Hi All,

A very quick additional question regarding Spring 2024 Schedule...

PA 441 with Sam Simon – she would like to schedule this in 7.5 Week 1; before moving forward I wanted to double check with you all this will be offered as a 101/201 and ensure that we are comfortable with a 40 seat Cap.

Thank you both!

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

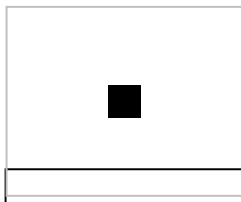

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?

- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 2024 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

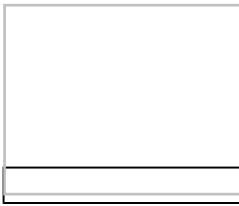

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

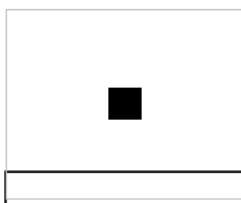

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Thank you all,

Hi All,

It was specifically the POL advisors who were requesting an in-person section, to help their international students. I can check-in with them to see which of the 3 courses would be most beneficial for their population needing the in-person option!

I'll follow up soon!

Hi all,

I just wanted to offer my two cents to say that 201 would be a great class to offer in person in summer – if we advertise it correctly, it could hit the 18 cap. Fingers crossed.

But I wonder if the advisors would have different thoughts on what to offer in-person.

He could teach 201 in person. Or either 325 (political psych) or 409 (public opinion), if we think we have need??

Thank you following up, Alex!

I will reach out to Orr, Tryon, Palmer, Craig Smith and Samantha Simon for Summer Scheduling.

I have asked Jessica, CC'd here, to connect with the Online advisors, to ask their insight about offering multiple sections 241 and 206 for summer; I suspect that we may be okay with one section of each, but CJS has seemed to be growing significantly.

I have not had an update from [REDACTED] but potentially offering her 419 section is a great back-up, I'm not confident that we have a big-enough need to fill 18 seats in-person, I will circle back with Advisors!

Subject: Re: Schedule of Classes: Summer 2024

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few quick thoughts:

1. I think we will prioritize the PhD students to teach where possible, ahead of some of these adjuncts. So, we should have enough PhD students to cover 201, 202, 204, 206. I think this means we hold off reaching out to Gordell and Chen.
2. Samantha Simon has expressed an interest in teaching her online class in Summer, as well. Could be good to have extra CJS coverage given growth of that program online. She and Craig Smith would be the two core faculty teaching in Summer at UG level.
3. Given CJS online, I wonder if we need a second section of 241 online? So, one in both sessions.
4. I also wonder if we want a second one of 206 if we think CJS students are likely to be needing it?
5. I think reaching out to Orr, Tryon, and Palmer sounds good.
6. I am a little torn on the in person. We are going to be asked to only offer classes that we are highly confident will enroll 18 students as a minimum. I just worry we will not enroll 18 in person. However, if the UG team have a plan for ensuring the enrollments, then we can certainly offer. (An alternative would be for us to move [REDACTED] 419 section from Spring to Summer, [REDACTED])

Cheers

Hello All,

I am reaching out as open scheduling for Fall/Summer 2024 has begun.

After discussing with Advisors and reviewing last Summer's schedule, attached is a suggested Summer 2024 schedule.

Some Notes/Questions:

- I have a note that Betsy Palmer will be teaching, though I did not receive details on what class she will be offering, I will reach out to confirm.
- I also have a note that Craig Smith will be offering PA 406 – I will reach out to confirm his preferred teaching session.
- Online Advisors have requested PA/SOC 241 be offered, as it is currently not scheduled for Spring 2024
- Last Summer we had Dan Grossenbach teach PA330 – are we wanting to re-invite him for Summer 2024?
- Advisors did request an in-person section, they suggested PA/POL 419 (taught last summer by Dan Detzi – Online)... are we open to scheduling something in-person this summer?

For Adjuncts, are we comfortable with Inviting the following Adjuncts to Teach in Summer 2024?

- POL 202 (Session 1) - Xiran Chen
- PA/POL 206 (Session 1) – Kelly Gordell
- POL 210 (Session 1) – Ethan Orr
- POL 309 (Session 1) – Brandon Tryon
- POL 202 (Session 2) – Kelly Gordell

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Best,
kirssa

Hi All,

Following up here... I think we are okay with break down of online sessions, students appear to already be enrolling into the 200-level session 1 courses.

For POL 202, we already have a session 1 that needs an instructor which Jeff can take over. For POL360, do we know yet if Jeff would like that be scheduled in session 1 as well?

Thank you,

Hi All,

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

Hi everyone,

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

I am copying Kirssa back in here because she has also been chatting with Jeff about online teaching in Spring. So, we should keep him in mind for 202, as well, potentially.

I am a bit worried we do not have anyone for 331. Not sure what to think about this one. The others I think we will be fine.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I

That was my understanding (101/201; 40 seats). I guess the only question is if she wanted to make this writing emphasis. I had a brief conversation about that possibility with her, but didn't get the sense that she wanted to go that route.

A very quick additional question regarding Spring 2024 Schedule...

PA 441 with Sam Simon – she would like to schedule this in 7.5 Week 1; before moving forward I wanted to double check with you all this will be offered as a 101/201 and ensure that we are comfortable with a 40 seat Cap.

Thank you both!

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

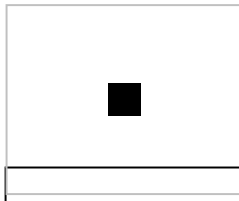

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?

- I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

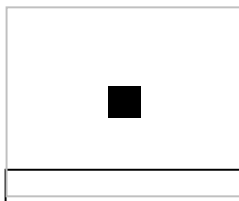

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

This sounds like a good plan to me, I will connect with Kelly and Xiran and get back to you all the coverage I am able to put together! I will get flyers made for 205 and 297b, and will start having Julie promote those.

If anything else comes up, please let me know!

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)

Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.

- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Alex

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.

3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Cheers,
kirssa

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online.

For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.

- Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

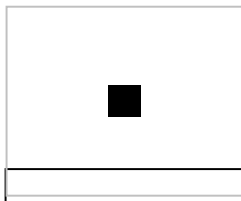

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

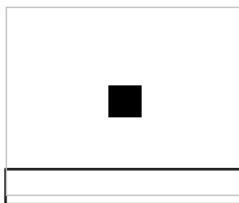

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332

- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Thank you following up, Alex!

I will reach out to Orr, Tryon, Palmer, Craig Smith and Samantha Simon for Summer Scheduling.

I have asked Jessica, CC'd here, to connect with the Online advisors, to ask their insight about offering multiple sections 241 and 206 for summer; I suspect that we may be okay with one section of each, but CJS has seemed to be growing significantly.

I have not had an update from [REDACTED] but potentially offering her 419 section is a great back-up, I'm not confident that we have a big-enough need to fill 18 seats in-person, I will circle back with Advisors!

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few quick thoughts:

1. I think we will prioritize the PhD students to teach where possible, ahead of some of these adjuncts. So, we should have enough PhD students to cover 201, 202, 204, 206. I think this means we hold off reaching out to Gordell and Chen.
2. Samantha Simon has expressed an interest in teaching her online class in Summer, as well. Could be good to have extra CJS coverage given growth of that program online. She and Craig Smith would be the two core faculty teaching in Summer at UG level.
3. Given CJS online, I wonder if we need a second section of 241 online? So, one in both sessions.
4. I also wonder if we want a second one of 206 if we think CJS students are likely to be needing it?
5. I think reaching out to Orr, Tryon, and Palmer sounds good.

6. I am a little torn on the in person. We are going to be asked to only offer classes that we are highly confident will enroll 18 students as a minimum. I just worry we will not enroll 18 in person. However, if the UG team have a plan for ensuring the enrollments, then we can certainly offer. (An alternative would be for us to move [REDACTED] 419 section from Spring to Summer, [REDACTED])

Cheers

Subject: Schedule of Classes: Summer 2024

Hello All,

I am reaching out as open scheduling for Fall/Summer 2024 has begun.

After discussing with Advisors and reviewing last Summer's schedule, attached is a suggested Summer 2024 schedule.

Some Notes/Questions:

- I have a note that Betsy Palmer will be teaching, though I did not receive details on what class she will be offering, I will reach out to confirm.
- I also have a note that Craig Smith will be offering PA 406 – I will reach out to confirm his preferred teaching session.
- Online Advisors have requested PA/SOC 241 be offered, as it is currently not scheduled for Spring 2024
- Last Summer we had Dan Grossenbach teach PA330 – are we wanting to re-invite him for Summer 2024?

- Advisors did request an in-person section, they suggested PA/POL 419 (taught last summer by Dan Detzi – Online)... are we open to scheduling something in-person this summer?

For Adjuncts, are we comfortable with Inviting the following Adjuncts to Teach in Summer 2024?

- POL 202 (Session 1) - Xiran Chen
- PA/POL 206 (Session 1) – Kelly Gordell
- POL 210 (Session 1) – Ethan Orr
- POL 309 (Session 1) – Brandon Tryon
- POL 202 (Session 2) – Kelly Gordell

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Xavier developed PA 331 for online, so it could be possible to plug someone into Xavier's course that has familiarity, if not expertise, in the area. I'm not sure who - a graduate student, Kelly/Xiran, or someone else?

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.

3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Perfect. Thanks, Sabryna!

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Cheers

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT ALEXANDER CLOUDT
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT RONGBO JIN

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Some Notes:

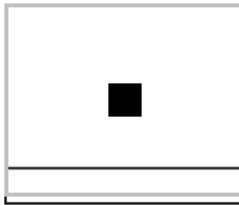

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added

We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

- PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Thanks, Sabryna.

A few thoughts and responses:

- First – THANK YOU! As always, you have given us a great starting point.
- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can - help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.

- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

In terms of your notes at the bottom of the page:

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

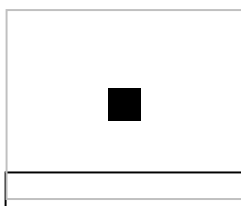

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-

Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?

- We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

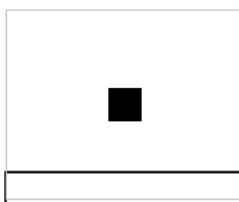

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Thanks, Sabryna.

I am copying Kirssa back in here because she has also been chatting with Jeff about online teaching in Spring. So, we should keep him in mind for 202, as well, potentially.

I am a bit worried we do not have anyone for 331. Not sure what to think about this one. The others I think we will be fine.

Cheers

No Problem!

After PhD Assignments, we are needing coverage for the following Spring Courses

- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

We still have some time to finalize the above instructors, but if you'd like me to reach out to Kelly or

Xiran, please let me know!

Just to confirm, currently I have only one section of POL201- 7WK1 being offered in Spring with Spencer Lindsay, I will move forward with adding 2nd section of 201 in 7WK1 for Ianne Wang.

Which would leave us with 1 section of 201 in 7WK2, with Seoungin Choi.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 -

We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns

- Do we want this In-person or Online?
- We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeris or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Thank you,

Oh, and I had meant to add that we might be fine with just two sections of POL202 online rather than three. So, maybe hide the third section of this for now and we can reconsider closer to the time.

- POL419 – completely fell off my radar, I am getting it back on track to be scheduled with [REDACTED]
- POL309 – Sounds like there is agreement for Jake to teach, I will reach out to get that scheduled as well.
- POL297b/397b – As we have submitted the course modification, I will tentatively add this to the workbook, and once the modification gets approved, I can have it officially added to the schedule.

Again, if there is anything I missed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

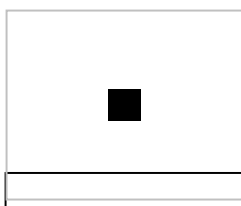

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.

- Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

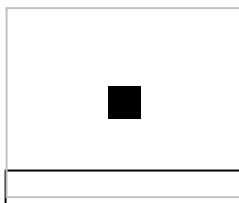

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

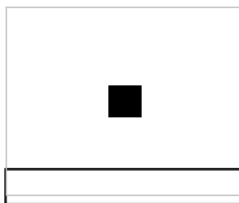

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332

- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

I think that asking both Kelly and Xiran to cover these three (204, 241, and 331) in some combination is feasible. Perhaps when you reach out, Sabryna, you could lay all three classes out to each of them and see what they would be willing to teach, letting them know that we will likely have 1 or 2 available for each.

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Thank you!

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.

3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Thanks, Sabryna. We had a quick email exchange back in June when you said you'd reach out to him. I mention this only in case you actually did and he never responded, which has been known to happen.

If you are OK to follow up with him now and confirm 417, that would be great.

Cheers

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

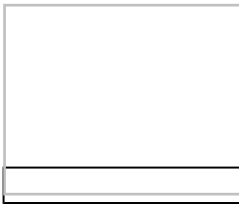

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.

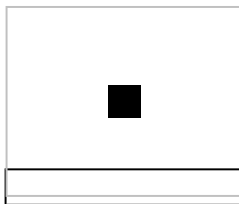

- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Thank you,

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online

(dropping 421).

- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

It sounds like [REDACTED] Xiran might be our best option, [REDACTED]

Xavier developed PA 331 for online, so it could be possible to plug someone into Xavier's course that has familiarity, if not expertise, in the area. I'm not sure who - a graduate student, Kelly/Xiran, or someone else?

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen ([REDACTED]) as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Thanks, Sabryna

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Cheers

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

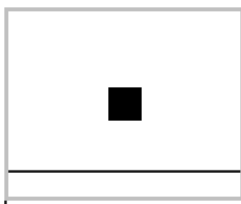

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

- [REDACTED]
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

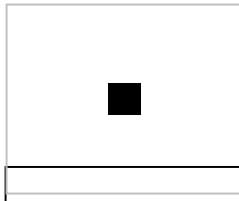

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also

- had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
 - PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Thanks, Sabryna.

Yep. I think asking Gordell to teach 204 sounds like a good plan. We can then have Chen () as back up for 241, if needed.

I think we probably need to be quite aggressive to get students enrolled in POL205 – especially online – and POL297B. So, it'd be great to start messaging for those ones.

I am not at all confident about options for 330/331.

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi everyone,

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Thanks, Sabryna.

I am copying Kirssa back in here because she has also been chatting with Jeff about online teaching in Spring. So, we should keep him in mind for 202, as well, potentially.

I am a bit worried we do not have anyone for 331. Not sure what to think about this one. The others I think we will be fine.

No Problem!

After PhD Assignments, we are needing coverage for the following Spring Courses

- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

We still have some time to finalize the above instructors, but if you'd like me to reach out to Kelly or Xiran, please let me know!

Which would leave us with 1 section of 201 in 7WK2, with Seoungin Choi.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I

- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I

- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Oh, and I had meant to add that we might be fine with just two sections of POL202 online rather than three. So, maybe hide the third section of this for now and we can reconsider closer to the time.

- POL297b/397b – As we have submitted the course modification, I will tentatively add this to the workbook, and once the modification gets approved, I can have it officially added to the schedule.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

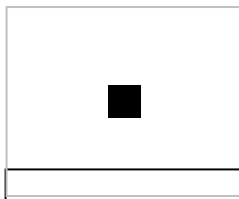

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.

- I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

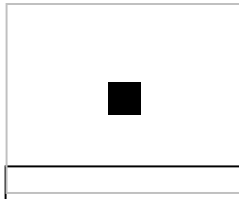

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?

- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]

2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him

that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD

- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Thank you!

Sounds great.

I thought the normal cap for online is 40 students, but is that incorrect? I'm fine with whatever is normal. And having it split between 101/201 is good.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Following up here... I think we are okay with break down of online sessions, students appear to already be enrolling into the 200-level session 1 courses.

For POL 202, we already have a session 1 that needs an instructor which Jeff can take over. For POL360, do we know yet if Jeff would like that be scheduled in session 1 as well?

Hi All,

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Thanks, all.

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Hi everyone,

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II

PA 441 with Sam Simon – she would like to schedule this in 7.5 Week 1; before moving forward I wanted to double check with you all this will be offered as a 101/201 and ensure that we are comfortable with a 40 seat Cap.

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner

- Do we want this In-person or Online?
- We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeris or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

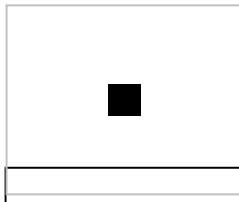

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.

- I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
- I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD

As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Hello All,

Attached are enrollment numbers as of this morning (Side note, the Analytics report I previously used for monitoring enrollment is no longer available, so this is a new report that is not as clean as I would like – hopefully, I can find a way to make it cleaner in the next few weeks, as I pull it regularly).

Some highlights:

- PA331 (Segura) is currently full, students have been inquiring about enrolling, Xavier shared that he is willing to increase capacity to 55, if you all are okay with that, I will work to find a larger room and will then increase the capacity.
 - On a similar note, is there an update on 330 with Grossenbach? If we are not offering 330, advisors are already asking for more seats in PA331 online (currently without an instructor and hidden for main campus)

Also, I just wanted to check in on status of these classes without an instructor:

- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
 - Kelly Gordell reached out to express interest in teaching in Spring.
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.

3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.

3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

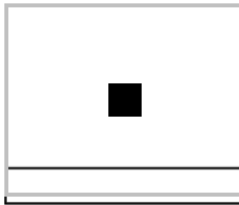

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

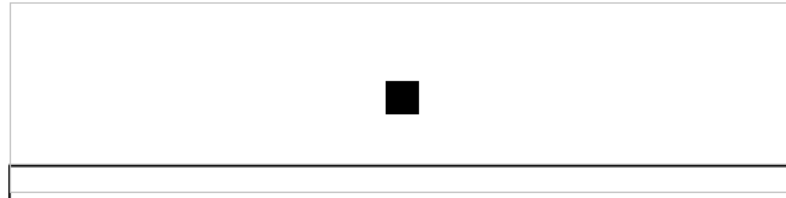

Sabryna Jaimez

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Cheers,

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added

We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

- PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

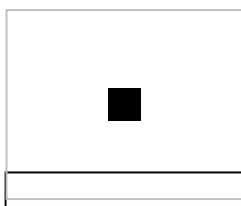

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-

Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?

- We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

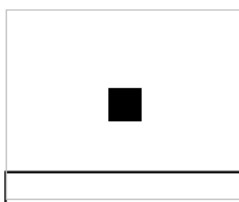

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi everyone,

It is looking like Jeff will do POL 202 online and POL 360 online, although it is a bit up in the air.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Thanks, Sabryna.

I am copying Kirssa back in here because she has also been chatting with Jeff about online teaching in Spring. So, we should keep him in mind for 202, as well, potentially.

I am a bit worried we do not have anyone for 331. Not sure what to think about this one. The others I think we will be fine.

Cheers

No Problem!

After PhD Assignments, we are needing coverage for the following Spring Courses

- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I (Unknown)
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK (Xiran Chen or Kelly Gordell)
- PA/SOC 241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK 1 (Hidden for Students) – Edella working on Instructor.

We still have some time to finalize the above instructors, but if you'd like me to reach out to Kelly or Xiran, please let me know!

Just to confirm, currently I have only one section of POL201- 7WK1 being offered in Spring with Spencer Lindsay, I will move forward with adding 2nd section of 201 in 7WK1 for Ianne Wang.

Which would leave us with 1 section of 201 in 7WK2, with Seoungin Choi.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I

- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Oh, and I had meant to add that we might be fine with just two sections of POL202 online rather than three. So, maybe hide the third section of this for now and we can reconsider closer to the time.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

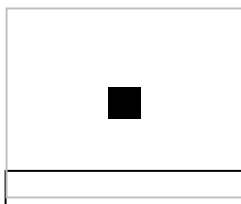

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.

- We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

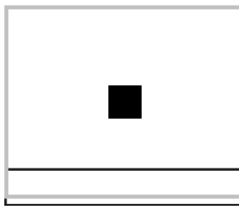

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

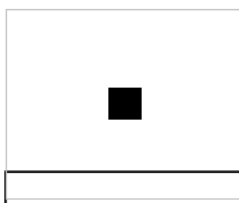

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Hi All,

Following up here... I think we are okay with break down of online sessions, students appear to already be enrolling into the 200-level session 1 courses.

For POL 202, we already have a session 1 that needs an instructor which Jeff can take over. For POL360, do we know yet if Jeff would like that be scheduled in session 1 as well?

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Cheers

Hi everyone,

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Thanks!

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

PA 441 with Sam Simon – she would like to schedule this in 7.5 Week 1; before moving forward I wanted to double check with you all this will be offered as a 101/201 and ensure that we are comfortable with a 40 seat Cap.

Thank you both!

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Thanks!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

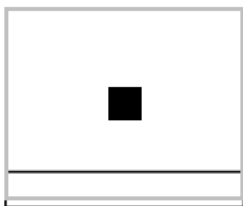

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

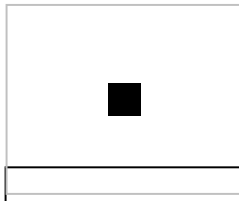

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.

- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Thanks, all.

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Hi everyone,

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

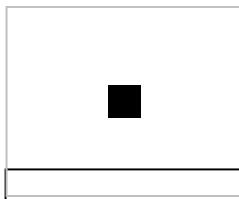

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.

- I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

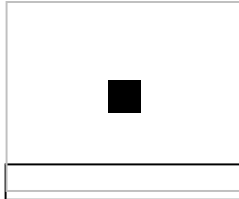

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?

- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Thank you,

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him

that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD

- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Hi Sabryna,

Jeff's preference is to do 2 classes, both in session 1.

We do have a fairly large imbalance in the schedule, though, with more session 1 courses. The schedule is open now, making it difficult to rearrange courses that were already scheduled, and scheduling 360 in session 2 might help Jeff to get more students enrolled.

Alex, what do you think on over seat allocation versus instructor preference on this one?

We do have a slight imbalance right now with 7.5 week courses; there are about 4 more classes in session 1 than in session 2. If Jeff would be open to session 2, that would work better for our AZO students, as they do tend to prefer session 2 classes.

Sabryna, if we were to do 360, is there a session that is better for the schedule? Jeff has said he prefers session 1. I seem to have a memory of us being fairly imbalanced on seats between sessions 1 and 2, but I didn't remember which session has more.

Hi everyone,

We have made a tweak to the plan for spring TA/GA/Instructor assignments.

The updated spreadsheet remains here:

Spring

2024:

[REDACTED]

Basically this means:

1. We would like to hire Ianne Wang as an adjunct to teach POL201 online in session 1 of Spring.
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. Hiring Wang means switching around instructors and TAs for POL201 sections. These are now adjusted in the spreadsheet.
3. This impacts the MPA/MPP students. We would be moving one from 201 to 241. Ideally we would now [REDACTED] Friedlander [REDACTED] to work with Charlotte Hu in PA241. Then I'd like us to use the other two – [REDACTED] to work jointly with Xavier Segura in the other 241 section.

Please let me know if any of this does not make sense.

This looks good to me- no obvious flags that I see. Just to make sure that we add Dan Detzi to the summer adjunct hires list- he should be easy this year as a rollover from last summer.

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

Am I right in thinking we have planned on having PhD student Sanho Chung teaching POL417 in person?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT ALEXANDER CLOUDT
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II --> PHD STUDENT RONGBO JIN

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II

- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.

3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted

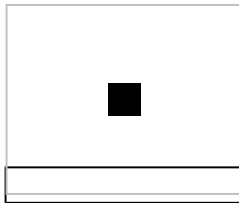

Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.

- I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

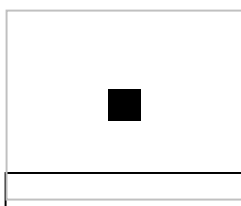

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.

4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...

- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Attachments: [REDACTED]

Hello All,

I am reaching out as open scheduling for Fall/Summer 2024 has begun.

After discussing with Advisors and reviewing last Summer's schedule, attached is a suggested Summer 2024 schedule.

Some Notes/Questions:

- I have a note that Betsy Palmer will be teaching, though I did not receive details on what class she will be offering, I will reach out to confirm.
- I also have a note that Craig Smith will be offering PA 406 – I will reach out to confirm his preferred teaching session.
- Online Advisors have requested PA/SOC 241 be offered, as it is currently not scheduled for Spring 2024
- Last Summer we had Dan Grossenbach teach PA330 – are we wanting to re-invite him for Summer 2024?
- Advisors did request an in-person section, they suggested PA/POL 419 (taught last summer by Dan Detzi – Online)... are we open to scheduling something in-person this summer?

For Adjuncts, are we comfortable with Inviting the following Adjuncts to Teach in Summer 2024?

- POL 202 (Session 1) - Xiran Chen
- PA/POL 206 (Session 1) – Kelly Gordell
- POL 210 (Session 1) – Ethan Orr
- POL 309 (Session 1) – Brandon Tryon
- POL 202 (Session 2) – Kelly Gordell

Dr. Edella Schlager
Director, School of Government and Public Policy
Social Sciences, Rm. 317
Tucson, AZ 85721

Dear Dr. Schlager,

I am writing to make you aware of the unethical behavior of Dan Grossenbach, an adjunct faculty member at the School of Government and Public Policy at the University of Arizona. I believe that this behavior violates the principles of the SGPP and it creates a hostile environment for transgender and LGBTQ students, in particular.

As an administrator of the Facebook and X accounts Save CFSD, Mr. Grossenbach has:

- Referred to transgender females as 'male students'/'male perverts' and to all transgender individuals as 'mentally ill' in his social media posts.
- Posted articles with headlines and captions about 'LGBT thugs' and 'Satan respects pronouns.'
- Tagged Charlie Kirk of Turning Point USA, Libs of TikTok, Moms for Liberty and other extremist hate groups. (As you are probably aware, members of Turning Point USA recently harassed and assaulted a professor of LGBTQ studies at ASU.)
- Spread false information about children being 'indoctrinated' by public school administrators to become transgender.
- Intentionally commingled funds from named and anonymous sources and presented those funds as his own for the purposes of establishing a partisan political action committee (on X, see @KennyJacobs thread of tweets from 8/4/23, posted below)

This is simply the tip of the iceberg. More examples of unethical conduct are readily available on his Save CFSD social media accounts on X, YouTube, and Facebook. Please note that there are two Save CFSD Facebook pages, an older personal one and a new business one. He is the administrator of both.

This behavior falls well short of meeting the University's standards for engaging in respectful discourse. Instead, this language not only misgenders and denigrates transgender students, but it also undermines the rights that should be afforded to all LGBTQ students at the University. Such derogatory and discriminatory language perpetuates a hostile and unwelcoming atmosphere that can have a negative impact on the mental and emotional well-being of students.

Beyond that, this behavior goes against the University's Statement on Professional Conduct, which seeks to provide an inclusive and respectful environment for all students, regardless of their gender identity or sexual orientation.

Would any student want to learn public administration ethics from a faculty member who writes and shares posts that preach hate and discrimination? Or who knowingly spreads misinformation and mishandles funds?

I appreciate your commitment to upholding the principles of the University and of your faculty's professional conduct. I trust that you will take the necessary steps to address this complaint and ensure a more inclusive, ethical and respectful educational environment for all its students.

Thank you for your attention to these matters. I wish to remain anonymous as out of fear of retaliation from this individual and his followers. Please review the attached evidence.

The hypocrisy is what really angers me.

We don't let adults engage in consensual sexual acts with minors because minors apparently can't make informed decisions. We also don't honor contracts that minors sign because they can't make informed decisions.

Yet suddenly it's ok for a minor to make a life changing decision on their gender. Suddenly they're considered to be informed.

You can't have it both ways. Either let adults have consensual sex with minors, let minors finance vehicles they can't afford, and let minors choose their gender. Or don't allow any of it because it's all insane.

When people pick and choose what fits and what doesn't then they lose all credibility which is what has happened to supporters of trans minors.

It's sad these kids have been brainwashed into accepting a mental illness as being normal, and even encourage it. This perversion spread by the likes of social media and Hollywood. This trans disease is like telling someone with anorexia that they are fat and need diet drugs and stomach stapling to solve their problem instead of getting mental health care.

What kind of values are being taught in Pima County schools and what can we do about it? This event answers this question and will inform, equip, and empower parents and citizens to impact their school districts in support of common-sense constitutional values in public schools.

The Center for Excellence in Public Schools is hosting the Southern AZ Values in Education Summer Conference (S.A.V.E. 2023) coming August 5, 2023 9-12:30 at Catalina Foothills Church, 2150 E. Orange Grove Rd., Tucson, AZ 85718, Room 304. This is a free event for those who register in advance or $5 donation requested at the door.

Here is a list of some of the speakers confirmed so far...

SaveCFSD.org (formerly CFSD Concerned Citizens) "What Happened at CFSD?"

Bernadette Gruber, Protect AZ Children's Coalition, "How Can Parents Exercise Their Rights to Influence Their Schools?"

Tom Carlson (Marana school board) "What Change can a Good School Board Candidate Make?"

Raul Rodriguez (Sahuarita School Board) "How do you Impact Your School Board?"

Dave Smith, Pima County GOP Chairman, "What is Education in a Free Society?"

The event is free but not without cost so donations of any amount are welcome. Contributions to this organization are not deductible for federal income tax purposes as charitable contributions. Mr. Grossenbach even described how the money would be spent. This is campaign activity. He raised, so far, $2K for a campaign and just got around to making it legit with the PAC filing 2 weeks ago.

Here's how your funds will be used:

$2: Each Google ad click shown on the screen of a CFSD community member's device screen

$10: For each Facebook ad targeting users in the local CFSD community

$20: 30 second ad spot on local radio program during rush hour

$48: 5 Lines to appear for 5 Days in the Arizona Daily Star plus 1 day, 8 lines in La Estrella and 5 Days of Digital on Tucson.com and Mobile.

I may be a wizened old politics observer who plays Willow Pills' "I Hate People" on repeat 3 days a week BUT this sure looks like Mr. Grossenbach is laundering campaign cash from "CFSD Concerned Parents" into the new PAC "Center For Excellence In Public Schools."

8/4/23 ...
I mean, "Center for Excellence in Public School," is still using the old twitter for "CFSD Concerned Parents" it appears.

And the website for "CFSD Concerned Parents" was registered by Mr. Grossenbach back in 2014 !! For /ReasonAZ.com/ but he used the same P.O. Box for both his website and "CFSD Concerned Parents."

I know this seems "deep in the weeds," and it is, but we will take up this tale...

We're back and thank you for reading!
Here's a recap:

1. SaveCFSD dot ORG is a Political Action Committee.
2. SaveCFSD dot ORG is a PAC registered under the name "Center for Excellence in Public Schools" and is a successor to "CFSD Concerned Citizens."

3. Dan Grossenbach raised at least $2,000.00 on GoFundMe for "CFSD Concerned Citizens" for political organizing.

I put this together from the PAC filing, of course, but also 'whois' data, screenshots from the 'Wayback Machine,' and googling the P.O. box used by Grossenbach for his blog and "CFSD Concerned Parents."

In terms of 419, I do think it makes sense to schedule it in session 2. Perhaps you could ask [REDACTED] if she'd prefer for it to be fully online or hybrid? I'd be happy to chat with her about the hybrid option and how it could work. That would enable our main campus students to have some seats!

Hello All,

Thank you Alex, for following up.

I don't have POL417 with Sanho Chung scheduled, or in my notes to be scheduled, but I may have missed something – I can easily get his added ASAP.

I'll hold off on adding and PhD/Adjuncts to the courses until Jess and Christina confirm.

Another update on the schedule – we currently have PA/POL419 scheduled for in-person with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given this update, would we be okay to move [REDACTED] class to online in 7WKII (Brint is teaching PA/POL419-online on 7WKI)?

If so, below is my sense of how we will manage these. Jess and Christina will need to confirm these arrangements work before we can post any names to the system. So, please wait on their agreement.

Just a quick update that Edella is working on an instructor for online 241 this spring. It sounded like she'd know soon if we can get that going.

I'm less sure on what we have in terms of grad student coverage. Perhaps once that is penciled in, we can go to the adjuncts?

Hello All,

I am following up on Spring 2024 schedule of classes, as priority scheduling is just around the corner.

First, I wanted to reach out to share the list of courses that I have listed as needing an Instructor (PhD/Adjunct), see list below. Additionally, I have connected with our CJS advisors for Main Campus and Online there is a consensus that we will need to offer PA241 online for Spring. Currently we have only main campus sections scheduled and we have about 50 active CJS Online majors. In anticipation of this need, I had scheduled PA 241 – 101/201/401 for 7.5 WK I and hidden the section. Do you think we would be able to get coverage for this additional section? If so, I will go ahead and un-hide the section, alternatively we can schedule a section of PA241 for 7.5 WK II if that would be more convenient.

Needs Instructor

- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 201- 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK I
- POL 202 – 102/202, 7.5WK I
- POL 202 – 101/201/401, 7.5 WK II
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- POL/LAS 204 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201, 7.5WK I
- PA/POL 206 – 101/201/401, 7.5WK II
- PA 331 – 101/201, 7.5 WK I
- PA 470 – 101/201, 7.5 WK II
- PA241-101/201/401, 7.5 WK I (Hidden for students)

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?

2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Many Thanks,

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Cheers,

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.

- We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 2024 schedule.

Some Notes:

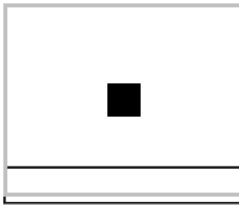

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

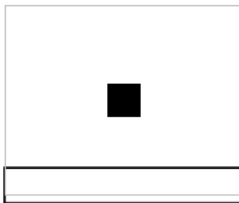

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

To whom this may concern -

I am a parent of a student at Catalina Foothills High School. I regularly watch the school board meeting recordings, and I am appalled by the speech of this man, his family, and the groups that he supports, who I have recently learned is employed by the University of Arizona. He consistently spews misinformation about children who belong to the LGBTQ community, anyone who votes anything other than republican, and those who do not belong to a Christian church.

My oldest child is a member of this community, attending Catalina Foothills, and had plans to attend the U of A next year. Since the U of A employs someone who repeatedly states that my child should not exist, I am finding it difficult to allow my child to attend the U of A.

I hope that you will look into this faculty member's public words and make the right choice for Arizona and it's future students.

Hi Kirssa,

It's very odd that they would deny the courses – I can't think of reason they would say no; their denial means that we cannot offer the courses to AZ Online students. However, if we wanted to, we could offer the courses to main campus students, as an online course.

In the future, should we want to offer the courses to AZ Online students, we would be able add AZ Online to the courses as a campus offering by submitting a course modification - we would need prior approval from AZ Online before submitting the course modification to have their campus added.

Hope this provides clarity!

Hi Sabryna,

I didn't even know AZ Online had a say in approvals.

Do you happen to know what that means? Does it mean we can never schedule the courses online? That would actually be fine at this point, since those courses are both taught by adjuncts who only want in person teaching... but I don't like the idea that it's not an option down the road.

I guess I'd like to know more about this, since I feel in the dark about the process or what it means.

Subject: PA451 and PA353 - AZ Online Denial

Hi Kirssa,

An update on PA451 and PA353, which were finalizing their approval routes.... They were denied by Arizona Online for use as ONLN classes. Curricular Affairs is going to push through the courses without ONLN as a campus offering for the courses.

I'm not sure if we want to reach out to AZ Online to inquire about the denials, but CA did share the AZ Online approver (Neda Fletcher) if we do want to reach out; AZ online was not required to provide a rationale for their denial so we did not receive one.

Let me know if there are any next steps I can help with regarding this update.

Hi all,

We did cap Xavier's new course offering (PA418) at 30, to gauge enrollment, that course did fill quickly, but Xavier had already taught for us, so I'm sure that contributed to its popularity.

With leaves and sabbaticals we are short about 150 seats in CJS electives (when compared to Spring 2023), our fill capacity last Spring was about 78% and our CJS numbers are a bit higher this year (for Jr's and Sr's) – I think keeping them at 50 would be okay.

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.

3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

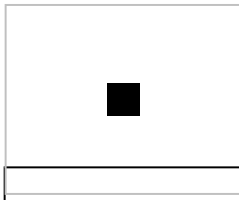

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?

- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

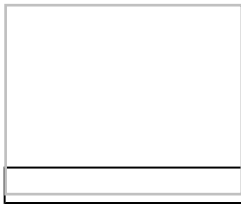

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

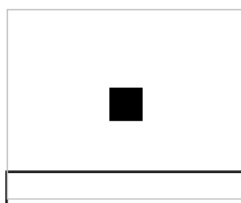

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Hi all,

We did cap Xavier's new course offering (PA418) at 30, to gauge enrollment, that course did fill quickly, but Xavier had already taught for us, so I'm sure that contributed to its popularity.

With leaves and sabbaticals we are short about 150 seats in CJS electives (when compared to Spring 2023), our fill capacity last Spring was about 78% and our CJS numbers are a bit higher this year (for Jr's and Sr's) – I think keeping them at 50 would be okay.

Hi Sabryna,

Thanks for this, and it's great to have all the classes ready to go.

I am fairly certain that they should all be in person courses, but I can double check.

Good question on the cap. I think we can keep it at 50, but is there any incentive to drop the cap to keep our % filled numbers higher? Or is it better to keep the cap in case the class is popular?

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeric or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response

- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

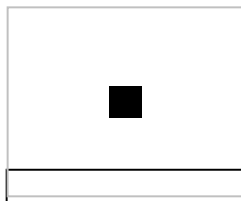

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.

5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

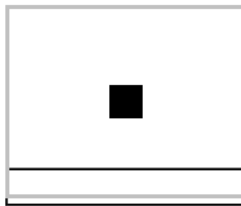

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Hi Kirssa,

They can contact me, or you could redirect them to Beth. But you can let them know we will reach out to them in November- ish once the spring 24 adjunct ad is live (we will send them the direct link to the ad) and the hiring process starts there.

Hi Both,

This is exactly what I was going to say as well- I think the target salary for most or all adjuncts is $7500 per class, per semester, but we have to build toward that as a 'across the board' standard because not all adjuncts are at that now. Some of our long term adjuncts ([REDACTED]) are subject to the annual salary increases [REDACTED] but new instructors start at $6000.

Thanks, Kirssa.

You can maybe mention the salary rate and let them know to reach out to us if they have questions?

We have two rates -- $6,000 and $7,500. My preference is that anyone coming to us with years of relevant experience and/or strong qualifications from an adjacent sector be started at the $7,500 rate. I think this would make sense in both of these cases. This then has the benefit of putting us in the position of trying to elevate folks who are on the $6,000 rate up to this kind of level over time.

See right, Angela?

Cheers

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aeric Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns

- Do we want this In-person or Online?
- We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aeris or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Some Notes:

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD

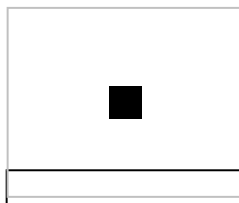

- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?

- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

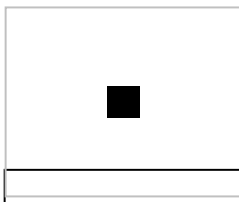

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

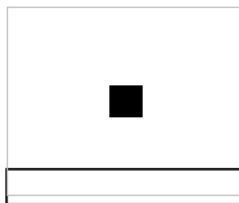

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332

- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Hello All,

Our 3 new courses for Spring 2024 are finished with their approval route and ready for scheduling (the Spring schedule is live to students October 1), before reaching out to the respective instructors to schedule, I wanted to check in with you all - to confirm what we are wanting to schedule...

- PA 451: Evidence-Based Policing – Aerik Koerner
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 444: Crime Reduction: What Works? - Javier Osorio
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?
- PA 353: Undercover Police Operations - Jay Dobyns
 - Do we want this In-person or Online?
 - We have capped similar classes at 50 – do we want to keep that cap?

We do have limited PA courses online, so if you think either Aerik or Jay would be willing to teach online, our advisors would be very happy to have another option for CJS students.

I've attached the Spring 2024 schedule as it is now, for your reference.

Hi all,

I agree about having a section of 309 with Jake- he is really enthusiastic about teaching and his SCS were strong. This course works for several majors as well. For 330, I think we only need the one in fall with Stu unless we think we will have need to offer it for the PMPC online students? Dan taught it this summer with only 13 students enrolled. It likely isn't needed, but maybe we revisit this later into the fall (it's an easy course to add to the schedule).

I knew I lost track of one of your emails, Sabryna! Sorry for the delay on this one.

1. I think 309 is fine to schedule. I'm less sure about 330 in person, since it's the PMPC required course. It looks like last spring we only had one section of PA 330 online, and it only had 31 students enrolled. (With the same # of seats for PA 331). Any other thoughts on 330 in person?
2. Perhaps we could do the CURE for [REDACTED] FYI, Sabryna submitted a course modification for that course, which will switch it to POL 397B. I'm not sure if it will be approved (fingers crossed!), but if we can get that one it might be a good option for students who could use it towards their SGPP major.

Four thoughts:

1. I am fine with asking Amaru and Grossenbach if Kirssa and Angela are on board.
2. I think having Spencer do 469 again works well in his first year with us.
3. Have you been able to reach out to [REDACTED] about teaching POL419 in person (001 section)?
4. We will have [REDACTED] available to teach something as our new Lab Manager. Thoughts, Kirssa? Add 301 (methods class)? 297B (the CURE)? Or something substantive? (he does elections, pol psych, etc.)

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

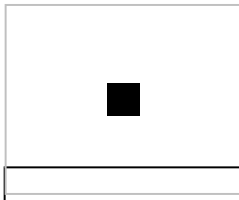

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?

- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

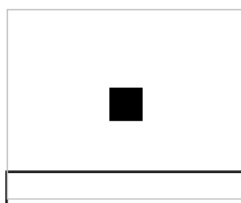

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

Good Afternoon all,

Attached is the Updated Spring 2024 Schedule.

Some Notes:

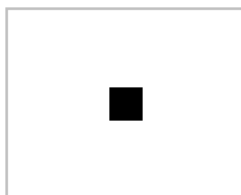

- PA331 – Online, 7WK1 –Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- PA 470 – Online, 7WK2, Instructor TBD, likely to be an adjunct or PhD
- POL 402 – Cancelled, [REDACTED]
- PA 451 – New Course Submitted
- PA 444 – New Course Submitted
- PA 353 – New Course Submitted
- Spencer Lindsay agreed to teach 201, 205 and 469 – though he did offer to teach something other than 469, if you would like him to

Regarding Adjuncts:

- I still have not received a response from Chris Olson regarding Teaching PA 350
- We still have POL 309, In-Person with Jake Amaru on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?
- We still have PA 330, Online with Dan Grossenback on Hold – do we want to schedule this course?

Open scheduling ends next week, if you see any major edits needed, please let me know!

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.

- We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

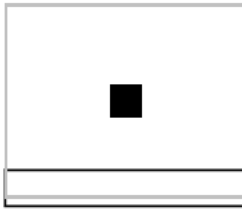

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

That is a good question... I was thinking 100ish since it can count for a 200-level course? We've scheduled some newer instructors (like Charlotte or Xavier - can't remember which) for a class around that size for PA 241. It gave us some extra seats without overloading the instructor.

But I'm concerned that the course won't be super popular if it isn't a gen ed by the time students register for spring classes, so I'll make a note to have Spencer do that asap,. We can also encourage the advisors push it as an alternative 200-level course.

I suspect that is probably high. What do you think, Kirssa? Maybe 50 or 100 if we are allowing students to take this instead of another 200-level? (We will also have online seats from Pete Seat.)

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added
- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?

- Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.

- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).

- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

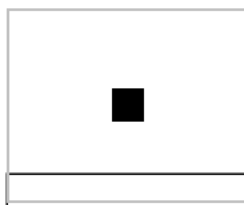

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

If I have missed anything, as I am sure I have, please feel free to point it out!

That is a good question... I was thinking 100ish since it can count for a 200-level course? We've scheduled some newer instructors (like Charlotte or Xavier - can't remember which) for a class around that size for PA 241. It gave us some extra seats without overloading the instructor.

But I'm concerned that the course won't be super popular if it isn't a gen ed by the time students register for spring classes, so I'll make a note to have Spencer do that asap,. We can also encourage the advisors push it as an alternative 200-level course.

I suspect that is probably high. What do you think, Kirssa? Maybe 50 or 100 if we are allowing students to take this instead of another 200-level? (We will also have online seats from Pete Seat.)

Subject: RE: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

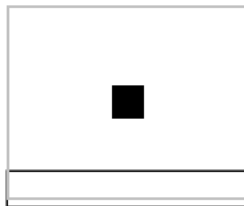

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors

seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?

- Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Thank you,

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.

- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).

- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

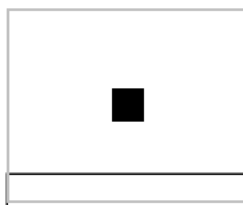

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior ([REDACTED]) – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

- Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- Amaru, Jake POL 309
- Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- Wilson, Chris PA 332
- Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section online, [REDACTED]
- Leavitt, John PA 340
- Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- Prater, Richard PA 410
- Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

Hi all,

I'm just chiming in to confirm that having Spencer teach POL 469 will be a good option for us in the spring. I seem to remember from advisors that it is a particularly popular/useful course for the BA Law students.

I also think that (from a curriculum perspective) having students sub 205 for 203/204 works just fine.

Subject: Re: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hi All,

Please see my responses in red

- Agree that it would be great to have 455 from Volgy as regular course.
 - I will update this in the schedule
- In terms of treatment of the online seats, I think we should keep a close eye on how this works for Fall 2023 with the enrollment of most online students upcoming. If Fall numbers work OK, then keeping more seats for online again would make sense.
 - This sounds good
- Spencer Lindsay will teach (1) an in person POL205, which he is going to be refreshing in Fall for the new gen ed program. (2) An online section of POL201, which he will also be updating for us in Fall. (3) He has scope for a third course. Kirssa? If having his repeat in person POL469 (Law and Social Change) from Fall works, that might be a good option.
 - We currently have 2 online sections of POL 201 scheduled (to be taught by PhD's), do we want to give one of those to Lindsay OR schedule a 3rd online POL201 section?
- My hope is that if we are not offering either POL202 or POL203 in Spring, we can encourage students to sign up for POL205 and allow them to use this as a substitute for one of their intro level requirements. Are we OK to do things this way?
 - I will confirm with Advisors.
- PA241 online would be useful to keep on the books with the CJS program now available online. For future semesters, I think we want to try to make sure to have at least one of Bartos, Hu, or Segura teaching a section of PA241 online each semester.
 - Hu and Segura are both currently scheduled to teach 241 in-person, do we want to move one of them to online?
- PA331 is a perennial issue for us. I hope we will soon be able to hire a faculty member who can help us with cover on the ethics classes. For now, we will probably lean on an adjunct.
- PA350: Please remind me: Were we holding off on asking Chris, because he just became chief of police on campus? If so, please feel free to reach out to him.
 - I have already reached out to Chris, waiting for a response
- I think we are good to go ahead and add POL417 (dictatorships) with Sanho Chung as the instructor. Please reach out to him about scheduling. You can be quite prescriptive if we need a MWF offering.
 - I will get this scheduled
- We are just hiring a new manager for the Arizona Policy Lab [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
 - I will wait for an okay to get this added

- We will be able to have a PhD offer PA470 online. Make it session 2 to be safest.
 - PA470-101/201, 7WKII already scheduled - good to go there.

Thank you All!

Hello All,

I am reaching out with the updated Spring 20234 schedule.

Some Notes:

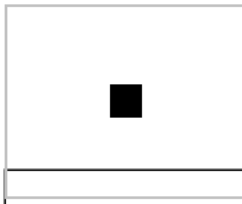

- PA353 – New Course submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA451 – New Course Submitted to be added to the Catalog.
- PA4XX – New course offering from Javier Osorio – not yet submitted.

Questions:

- Tom Volgy is willing to teach POL455 as a regular non-honors course OR as an honors seminar; do we preference as to which to schedule?
 - Given the schedule, I lean towards the non-honors section.
- Online/Main Campus seats: For Fall 23 we hid main campus sections in online courses that also had in-persons sections, do we want to do the same this semester?
- Do we know what Spencer Lindsay will teach for Spring 24?
- PA241-ONLINE – [REDACTED] we do not an online section of PA241 scheduled – can we fill this with an Adjunct/PhD or do we want to skip it for Spring 24?

Please let me know if I have missed anything, or if there any questions.

Thank you,

Hi Kirssa,

Glad to hear that we will have a few new courses to offer as electives – if I can be of any assistance to Javier or Jay, please let me know – happy to help!

Regarding 297B/397B, here are the policies on Numbering:

100-299: Lower-division courses primarily for freshmen and sophomores.

- 100-199: Primarily introductory and beginning courses.
- 200-299: Intermediate-level courses.

300-499: Upper-division courses primarily for juniors and seniors.

- 300-399: Advanced-intermediate-level courses.
- 400-499*: Advanced-level courses.

*Lower-division courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures of critical thinking in order to provide a broad basis for more advanced courses.

*Upper-division courses are specialized, in-depth, and advanced, and emphasize problem-solving, analytical thinking skills, and theoretical applications.

Thanks, Sabryna!

It would be nice to offer a 397B version of the data course. Will this take over the 297B class or will they run together?

Angela/Sabryna, do you know if we need an entirely new course proposal for 397B, if it is essentially the same class as POL 297B just moved into an upper division version? And, do you happen to know if there's anything in the submission rules or catalog on what separates a 200 from 300 level course? I'm wondering how we justify the addition of a 300-level version of the class.

And small update - Javier has decided to do a new course proposal. Jay Dobyns is also working on a course proposal for us for the spring, title will be something like "Managing Undercover Operations." Assuming that all goes well, it'll give us a few more electives for CJ and PMPC.

Thanks, as always, for getting this started, Sabryna.

A few initial thoughts:

1. We will not have any classes (including online) from [REDACTED]
2. We can probably increase Milward's cap to 50 as part of a deal we struck with him for his final semester teaching.

3. I think I'd be fine with us giving Charlotte the choice of 421 or 241.
4. We will have classes from Spencer Lindsay for Spring. So, let's plan on adding him once we have this first cut completed.
5. We will also potentially get one class from Gemma Smith in Spring; however, this will likely be a grad class.
6. Kirssa: Should we go ahead and add (will require a course proposal, right?) a 397B version of the data class that the new lab manager will teach?
7. We will have a couple of PhD students to teach some upper division in person sections. I will chat with Jess about options for this.

Cheers

Subject: Spring 2024 - First Review

Hello All,

We have the 1st draft of the schedule for Spring 2024 ready for review (attached), I have also made some notes below.

Approved Leaves for Spring 2024:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

Questions:

- Charlotte should be teaching only 2 courses in Spring 2024, but she requested PA/POL421-Online, PA/SOC241-InPerson, and PA410-Online, is there a preference of which class to drop?
 - We are running with limited electives for Spring, and Xavier is also scheduled for PA/SOC241-InPerson, so my inclination is to keep her with 421 and 410. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] we may need her (or Xavier/Adjunct) to do 241 online (dropping 421).
- POL469 is listed as a course not rolling over, but we are offering this course in Fall 2023 with Spencer Lindsay, would we want to offer it again in Spring 2024? Spencer is also teaching POL201 online for us this Fall.
- Will we have additional new hires available to teach in Spring?

Notes:

- Bill Mishler has requested to teach a Special Topics (Elections 2024), I have suggested to him that he take over POL435 – Elections and Voting Behavior [REDACTED] – I haven't heard back from him yet, so this TBD
- Javier Osorio will either be introducing a new PA course or taking over PA405, also TBD
- As mentioned above, there are very limited electives, due to leaves, I have them all noted in the SP 24 Courses not Rolling Over tab – just something to be aware of...
- [REDACTED]

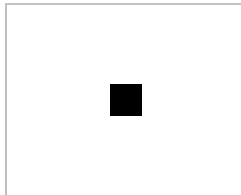

Adjuncts: Can I reach out to the following Adjuncts for their regular teaching?

Hi Sabryna,

Some quick thoughts on adjuncts.

1. Kirssa and I have been chatting to another new adjunct – Pete Seat () – about teaching an online (101/201) section of POL205: Presidency class in Spring 2024. Would you mind reaching out to him about scheduling? I am happy for this to be either session but it might be safest to go with session 2.

2. In terms of reaching out to folks. I have highlighted in green all I think you can reach out to.

Note that Chris Olson is now leading UAPD so may or may not be available:

- a. Orr, Ethan R POL 210 ONLINE
- b. Amaru, Jake POL 309
- c. Tryon, Brandon POL 309 ONLINE & 470 ONLINE
- d. Grossenbach, Dan PA 330 ONLINE
- e. Clark, Karen PA 337 ONLINE
- f. Wilson, Chris PA 332
- g. Harper, Richard PA 347 & 348
- h. McCamman, Michael PA 241 ONLINE – currently we do not have a 241 section

online, [REDACTED]

- i. Leavitt, John PA 340
- j. Olson, Chris PA 350 ONLINE
- k. Prater, Richard PA 410
- l. Mcdaniel, Judith POL 475 ONLINE
- m. Palmer, Betsy POL 407 & POL 408 ONLINE

Basically, I think we should hold off and not invite McCamman again. Also, we should hold off on Grossenbach. What do you think, Angela and Kirssa?

Finally, I am suggesting we pause on Jake Amaru. Mostly because we need to figure out Spencer Lindsay's teaching and make sure 309 is not a class he will teach. Kirssa: Do you mind giving that some thought?

Cheers

We also have 331 in person in Fall. And it is full already.

I think that having 330 online would make sense IF we are counting that for CJS students, as well. Otherwise, I think we probably are in greater need of more 331 seats with the CJ focus.

Depending on what others have requested to teach in spring, plugging him in for 330 might be an option – i.e., if there are no in person seats.

Hi All,

I am following up - our Adjunct, Dan Grossenbach, reached out to me to express interest in teaching additional classes for SGPP, in the past he has taught PA330 for us 1-2 times a year. Not sure if there might be availability for him to fill in some gaps in Fall 23 or Spring 24 but I just wanted to share- in case there is a need.

Thank you!

Hi Dan,

Thank you for reaching out!

Our department will begin putting together the Spring 2024 schedule this month, as we do so, we will know more about the potential need for additional classes to be offered. I will let both Alex and Kirssa know of your availability and willingness to teach additional classes, and you can expect to hear more from me regarding teaching, for Spring 2024, during the summer.

If you have additional questions, please don't hesitate to contact me!

Many Thanks,

Hi Sabryna. I've been teaching two courses per year on average for the last three years and have come to the point where I could easily take on two more. Is there an opportunity to do that?

By my count, the spring seven week semester II is 8 weeks long with no holiday breaks. However, the summer seven week session I is 7 weeks long with two holidays. Is this correct? If so, does the department expect the same course material to be presented in both semesters or is it expected that the summer is taught with 14% less content? It equates to about 2 weeks less of class time when translated to a full length spring or fall academic semester.

I removed Tommaso's course and added Weber for POL325 – thank you for catching those, Alex!

I will share the summer offerings to distance and schedule a few seats for them.

In terms of seat capacity, I think it makes sense for us to keep most of the upper division at 40 or 50. So, perhaps the only decision in the shorter term would be if we want to cap any of the intro classes lower. We have 200 and 300, respectively, for the POL201 classes. I suspect we might get 400 students between the two, rather than 500. So, maybe we can lower the Frank number a little? Of course, if this makes it tougher with RCS, then it is probably not worth bothering.

Agreed on the distance seats for summer. They are welcome to a few seats.

SBS is looking at the % unfilled, so we could look at that. It's a bit awkward, since we'll want to minimize the unfilled % but also not bake in different course capacities for different instructors/classes. I'm envisioning equity complaints. Maybe there's some sort of rule we can come up with, like all "methods-y classes will be capped at 30", or something?

Thanks for the list of classes. I can also take a look and brainstorm, and I'll also think about potential new classes the new hires can do (a CJ inequalities class being top among them).

Best,
Kirssa

Thanks so much, Sabryna.

I think this looks fantastic. My sense is that Summer is ready to go. I do not anticipate any changes there. I am fine with us offering some of the seats for distance. The more the merrier!

1. For fall, [REDACTED] So, we need to remove his other class from the schedule: POL472. I suspect we will just not offer that class.
2. I notice that Alexander Cloudt is listed as teaching POL325. Was this change made because he replaced Weber in Spring 2023? If so, then I think we will revert back to Weber teaching 325 in Fall 2023.
3. I think we can work on filling 241, 470, and 480 as we move forward.
4. I understand that MENAS are a bit slow on new courses, because they have a long internal approval process.

Only other thought is whether we want to reduce any of the large seat capacities, just to manage the ultimate % of seats that will be unfilled, if this is something SBS is looking at. What do you think, Kirssa?

Otherwise, I do not see any other changes that are needed for now.

Recall, though, that we are in the process of finalizing contracts for three new tenure track assistant professors. They will each teach (probably) one or (less likely) two classes in Fall. We will work on conversations with each of them as the semester progresses.

With the above point in mind, is anyone able to share with me the full catalog of courses that we have on the books? (I for some reason always struggle to find the online catalog that is not limited to any single semester.) I will use this to see if we have existing courses on the books that new hires can teach.

Cheers

Hello All!

The open scheduling window for Fall/Summer 2023 is closing soon, as such I wanted to send out the schedule as it is now for both Fall and Summer (see attached) with notes below.

Fall 2023 Notes

- PA/SOC241-101/201, 7.5 Week II – Instructor is listed as TBD
- PA470-101/201/401, 7.5Week I – Instructor is listed as TBD
- PA480-101/201, Regular Session – Instructor is listed as TBD
- I've received no update regarding Carolyn's MENAS New course
- As discussed I have 'hidden' all 101 sections that also have an in-person section being offered

Summer 2023 Notes

- Victoria Meyer, Director of the Distance Campus, has requested to have a few Distance Campus seats for summer – historically we have only offered Distance Campus seats for Fall (usually for one 200 level course and for one 300/400 level course), over the last few Fall Terms that we have given Distance campus seats, they averaged an enrollment of 3 seats between the 2 courses we typically offer; I wanted to connect with you all to see how we feel about offering Distance campus seats in summer, since it seems like something we haven't done recently.

Many Thanks,

Hello All,

Thanks so much Sabryna- this looks great. The Layout is looking much more evenly spaced out for pressure point class time as well.

The advisors have agreed that they like the idea of the 'hidden' 101 sections that they can hand enroll only the neediest of students (mostly seniors). I think that if we have an in-person section, we can 'hide' the 10, 101 seats and open the rest to 201 & 401. If we get to a point where the course isn't filling to capacity, we can consider enrolling more in the 101 sections as we get closer to the start of the semester. And I know the online advisors would really appreciate the additional seat capacity.

Thanks, Sabryna!

I'm thinking we might want to do a breakdown similar to what Alex suggests, but at least for some of the classes, we should "hide" the 101 seats so students cannot find it when they search. This is based on the logic that a main campus student should go to in-person courses when they are available, and students are very pushy about getting into online classes if they think they are available.

If we hide the 101 seats, it could be an advisor prerogative to offer the online version of a class for any students who really need it online.

What I haven't worked out yet is whether this should be all classes or just a selection of them, or how to break down the 101/201 seats if we do want to fully hide the online classes from our main campus students.

I can think more about those questions - but what do you all think about that as a general approach? Or should we continue to list 101 sections for main campus students to find and alter the seat balance?

Thanks so much, Sabryna.

Please do add 338 for me. Thanks! That time slot works well.

In terms of the main campus and online: I think we should limit. This should also be true for POL201.

- For a class with a 40 person cap, I think it makes sense to have 10 in 101 sections, 20 in 201 sections, and 10 in reserve.
- For 60 person caps, perhaps 10 in 101 sections, 30 in 201 sections, and 20 in reserve. This will also help us to force some balance between the two sessions for the intro classes.

Does that seem reasonable, Kirssa and Elizabeth? Feel free to suggest an alternative.

Cheers

Hi All,

Thanks for the update Sabryna- and I agree about the PA 470. With CJS and PMPC in person and online in fall, we will need the 3 sections. As for Courtney, lets reach out to her personal email address as well- and we can call her too. Its out of the ordinary for her not to respond.

Thanks, Sabryna,

For PA470, I think having an in person option (full semester) and at least one online option is probably a good minimum. However, we could probably afford to have an online option in both semesters. So, feel free to up to one in person full semester and one online in each session and we can work on filling any empty instructor roles.

Cheers

Hi all,

A few more notes from me...

- For Alex's class, I think the Tu/Th option from 12:30pm – 1:45pm would work well
- PA470 – In entering the schedule it came to my attention that we typically offer 3 sections of this course – currently we have only 2 sections planned – are we okay with this?
- PA/POL479 – Still waiting to hear back from Courtney

Once Alex's class is added, I'll send an updated schedule!

Subject: Re: Fall 2023 UG- First Review

All sounds great. Thanks, Sabryna.

I think I might try a bit of something new for my teaching next Fall.

I like the idea of teaching PA/POL388 Refugee and Immigration Policy.

I also quite like the idea of teaching this in the hybrid format that Jenny Carlson uses in her PA338. Given hers is in session 1, perhaps I could offer mine in session 2?

I am flexible on days and times. I noticed that Tuesday and Thursday when POL201 is being taught, the schedule is otherwise wide open. Does that kind of time frame make sense? Presumably, there is a small overlap in students interested /needing 201 and 388, but maybe that slot is an option? Happy to take advice on alternative time slots, including MW and MWF, if we are trying to avoid any classes overlapping with 201.

Cheers

Hello All,

Thank for the responses!

- I've noted Frank for 201 and have added 241 to the schedule
- I will keep Colin's class at 7.5weeks, I'm happy to let Colin know of the decision, and will refer him to Alex - if he would like to discuss
- In talking with Elizabeth, it seems like PA/POL 388 would be great option for Alex to teach, but 419 seems equally popular, so I think whichever you prefer, Alex!
- I still haven't heard from Courtney regarding her class, as soon as I do I will send an update so Alex can decide if he wants to do in-person or Online
- We still have Kelly Gordell on hold for Fall teaching – just something to be aware of...
- For Summer – I will begin putting the schedule together and will send an update soon, thank you for your notes!

Feel free to reach out if you have any questions/concerns!

Thank you!

Subject: Re: Fall 2023 UG- First Review

Yes. Many thanks, Sabryna.

A few updates:

1. Frank Gonzalez has agreed to teach POL201-001 in Fall 2023. Thanks for discussing with him, Kirssa. Sabryna: Please feel free to reach out to Frank to confirm schedule.
2. Let's go ahead and add the PA241-101/201 in both sessions of Fall and leave one of them without an instructor for now. We can fill this in later.

3. I agree with Angela that having Colin move back to 16 weeks is not ideal. The online programs are now trying to stick to the half semester sessions. I am happy to chat more with him about this, if he'd like.
4. I still owe a class of my own for Fall. I am leaning towards either PA/POL388 online or PA/POL419 in person. I will take another look at our various offerings once we have confirmed with adjuncts. So, for instance, if Courtney Cooper is unable to teach, maybe I will offer up an online option.
5. In terms of summer:
 - a. I agree with Angela's comment on adding the adjuncts.
 - b. We will only have 7 or 8 PhD students available to teach this year. And we might not be able to offer them as much $$ -- I am meeting next week with Francisco about funding.
 - c. So, I think we should start off quite bare bones. Perhaps plan on the following (in addition to 210, 309, 335):

POL201 in both sessions

POL202 in both sessions

POL204 in one session

POL206 in one session

POL325 in one session

POL417 in one session

POL419 in one session

PA470 in one session

Cheers

Hi Sabryna,

This is great- I think you have hit all the targets on this.

- I am a bit concerned with Colin's request in that UA Online will not like a full semester course for their students (PA 410) – since this course is a requirement, we might not have a choice.
- Thanks for rearranging the pinch points in the schedule- the VL looks much more evenly laid out.
- Not sure about the summer schedule- attaching the Summer 22 one here as a compliment to your enrollment table for last summer (great by the way).

I think we can move forward with the following requests for Summer:

- Brandon Tryon (POL 309)
- Dan Grossenbach (PA 330)
- Ethan Orr (POL 210)

The rest of summer is open to suggestion- thanks!

Subject: RE: Fall 2023 UG- First Review

Hi All!

I've updated the Fall Schedule with the adjuncts (minus a couple – see my notes below).

Notes:

- Colin has requested to move his course from a 7.5 week online to a regular session online – he feel students are struggling to complete course work in the short time. Is this okay?
- As it stand now we have 12 courses scheduled for 7.5 WK I and 11 courses scheduled for 7.5 WK II
- I've added the Visual Layout tab to this review, so you all can review what the semester looks like – I was able to move a few blue(POL courses) since Christina's email earlier this week.
- I've also included the 'FA22 Courses not Tolling Over Tab', just for your reference, so you may see what courses we will not be offering – this may be helpful when considering new hire teaching assignments
- I'm still waiting on responses from Courtney Cooper and Rich Prater

Summer 2023

- I've also Included our Summer 2022 enrollment numbers, so we can start to think about what we would like to offer for 2023.

Angela – If you think I've missed anything, feel free to add on!

Thank you!

I think it might make sense to just sign Tae up for two courses for now.

We can think about whether we want to bump up his contract or identify a PhD student to teach the 480 online. Maybe for now, just list 480 as “staff” and in need of an instructor.

Cheers
